inventions

WHAT: Jurupa Hills High School sophomores will emulate aspiring entrepreneurs as they make formal presentations on their business ideas. The event is a classroom project based on the Entrepreneurship course.

WHEN: Tuesday March 14
Presentations begin at 8:30 a.m.
Winners will be announced Wednesday, March 15

WHERE: Jurupa Hills High School Dance Room

DETAILS: In February, 500 Jurupa Hills 10th graders were asked to create products through research and draft business proposals including a product description, budget and brochure they could send to an existing company or individual. Seventeen finalists will pitch their inventions to a panel of judges consisting of Jurupa Hills teachers and staff.

Among the inventions being considered for the grand prize are a miracle 5-Star spiral notebook, jewelry that can detect if a drink has been spiked, fashionable clothing that adheres to school dress code, a multi-condiment blaster, inflatable clothing for the disabled, and a cardboard imagination box for toddlers.

Student winners will receive gift cards from local businesses. For more information, contact teacher Galen Shotts, (909) 357300 ext. 16308
